Q5.1 - As a result of what I learned from my participation in this activity, I intend to make the following practice/performance changes that I believe will result in more positive patient outcomes:

Better understand the presentation of patients who are affected by a hazmat incident

I'm am more aware of the s/s to recognizing patients exposed toxins and toxicants. Rapid recognition of these s/s can save lives and enhance better patient outcomes.

I will make a more concerted effort to recognize and react to hazmat situations in the hospital setting.

Totally enhanced my knowledge!! Every aspect

Decontamination DWD

Ability to identify signs and symptoms in order to treat correctly.

Protocol revision

Protocol updates

Yes

Continue to read my book, knowledge sharing, continuing educations.

Q5.2 - Please share any other comments or recommendations including improvements for the current activity or topics for future educational events:

Very fast paced. A third full day would be beneficial to fully be able to learn all slides and have time to study the material for the test.

Excellent course. One of the most complex information course I've ever taken. (In my fourth decade of healthcare)

More information on biological warfare

AHLS Provider Course Evaluation Summary (West Palm Beach, FL Mar 2023)

The use of more case examples can aid in identifying the signs and symptoms of different hazmat medical emergencies in order for treatment.

Thank you

Thanks.

Update the videos. Way to out dated and old compared to material

Sharing of PowerPoints for notations could benefit some learning styles.

Q6.1 - Did you feel this activity contained biased information regarding any pharmaceutical company's or medical device manufacturers' therapeutic agents, devices or services?

Q6.2 - If yes, please explain:

Comments:

- Liked how you prefaced with the lack of high quality in the literature in the beginning but still were able to effectively use what was available.
- Thought you did a good job handling the lipid question.
- Very easy to understand
- A lot of information given and very condensed in what was presented for each toxicity/antidote.
- Very good
- Clear, even over zoom.

- Excellent pace
- Lipid metabolism?!?!?
- Excellent in-depth review of current literature!
- Voiced not knowing the exact answer to the lipid question posed, but appropriately verbalized would investigate and provide an answer.
- Tox literature is scarce. She did a good job of finding studies and including.
- Nice review of chemical structures to explain why other agents may or may not be appropriate for physostigmine.
- Utilized recent examples of when alternative antidotes were needed and what sources able to find guidance.
- Able to follow nicely.
- Diagrams and some slides used conclusions/take home points in block when finishing slide. Some sliders were harder to see in smaller font on white background.
- Good use of examples and trying to find.
- Questions at the end of each section to make sure audience understood take home points.
- A lot of great information! Probably cut down on the topics and slow down a bit of the audience (especially non-toxicology pharmacist).
- Thorough review and good descriptions of the mechanisms for the different processes.
- Good review of the research studies/trails to support recommendations and conclusion.
- Very organized and easy to follow the flow of the presentation.
- Good and easy to read slides. Good illustrations which supported discussion.
- Good tone and voice control.
- Very organized, easy to follow. Did a great job transitioning from each slides.
- Very nice, easy to follow
- Confident, engaging
- Found this topic very relevant to my practice. Great job!
- Slides a little wordy
- Only 1 question
- Make the font darker on citations
- Good tone and pace
- Nice & Clear
- A lot of good information presented @ good speed
- No questions
- The timeline slide was a little busy, but other than that sliders were great
- Molly did a great job!
- Consider putting citation on slides where literature is discussed – Wait just kidding
- I see the citations; the font color is just super light ☹️
- Great Presentation! Good pausing throughout
- Assessment questions were appropriate + kept audience engaged
- Nicely presented
- Perfect
- Thank you for the information
